Talking Heads

Friday 15th March 2024

Dear Families,

This week we celebrated British Science Week! Across the school, children took part in exciting science investigations with staff. Children were also invited to complete their own Science Projects for the termly Science Fair. We had some superb entries from a fantastic model of human lungs, slime balls, 3D shaped bubbles and blubber gloves! The children presented their entries to the whole school, with explanations of what they had discovered, and were then judged and presented with science prizes such as space torch, a slinky and a science book.

As part of our school value ASPIRE, during science week Mr Mannion, Science teacher from Sir John Talbots, joined our school to lead science investigations in our KS2 classes a STEM activity which challenges students to construct their own bridges in small groups using regular arts and crafts materials. After discussing different types of bridges, students will be ready to go with this hands-on STEM activity. Students used straws to build their structures and explored how different types of supports allow their designs to hold weight. Well done Super Scientists!

Today we were invited to wear something red or something that makes us happy for Comic Relief 'Red Nose Day! Well done to Rupert who created his own treat bags to sell in the school reception to raise funds for this wonderful charity.
